ORDER:

The seeds, manures, ~~xxx~~ implements, etc. required by the cultivators are stocked by the Agricultural Department for sale in depots, maintained for the purpose. These stocks have to be necessarily moved from depot to depot both within the district from taluk to taluk and also from district to district on account of less demand due to adverse seasonal conditions or greater demand due to favourable circumstances. In accordance with the existing practice, when stock is moved from depot to depot, the cost of incidental charges such as packing, cart hire and transport are included in the sale price. The Director of Agriculture has reported that the inclusion of these incidental charges at every stage inflates the sale price considerably and has recommended that the inclusion of incidental charges packing and transport in the sale price in the case of interest district and inter taluk transfer of stock, may be waived. His Excellency the Governor approves the Director of Agriculture's proposal. The Director of A griculture is however, requested to see that stocks are consigned in the first instance to convenient centres so that unnecessary long movements may be avoided and transport charges minimised

Transport over short distances should be made by Agricultural Departmental lorries which are intended for such purposes without incurring extra charges.
